

Updates to Website

Monday, 06 April 2015

Last Updated Saturday, 11 April 2015

Â

UPDATE

The database issue has been resolved and the forum is back up and functioning 100%.Â The forum link on the left hand nav will take you there or you can use one of the following urls to visit:

Forums

<http://tucsonairsoftcoalition.com/forum/index.php>

TAC Facebook Group

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/1509738305939939/>

Â

Due to a few people asking about it lately we wanted to post here that both the TAC site and the TAC organization remain functioning. Due to a shortfall in volunteer time along with some technical issues we have had long standing problems with the website and participation in weekly play has been reduced to a small number. I was able to restore much of the site today and wanted to take the chance to let you know we have both temporary forums established as well as a Facebook group and that players are still active. The old forum remains on standby so that it can be used as a reference and efforts are still going to take place to bring it back into service. Please bear with us during this time. Here are some addresses to help you find what you need. You can also email admin@tucsonairsoftcoalition.com if you have questions that cannot be resolved with the provided resources.

Â

Â

UPDATE

The database issue has been resolved and the forum is back up and functioning 100%.Â The forum link on the left hand nav will take you there or you can use one of the following urls to visit:

Forums

<http://tucsonairsoftcoalition.com/forum/index.php>

TAC Facebook Group

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/1509738305939939/>

Â

Due to a few people asking about it lately we wanted to post here that both the TAC site and the TAC organization remain functioning. Due to a shortfall in volunteer time along with some technical issues we have had long standing problems with the website and participation in weekly play has been reduced to a small number. I was able to restore much of the site today and wanted to take the chance to let you know we have both temporary forums established as well as a Facebook group and that players are still active. The old forum remains on standby so that it can be used as a reference and efforts are still going to take place to bring it back into service. Please bear with us during this time. Here are some addresses to help you find what you need. You can also email admin@tucsonairsoftcoalition.com if you have questions that cannot be resolved with the provided resources.

Â

Current Temporary Forums

should you need anything you put there in the past 8 months

<http://tucsonairsoftcoalition.com/php3012/forum/index.php>

Previous Malfunctioning Forums

<http://tucsonairsoftcoalition.com/forum/index.php>

TAC Facebook Group

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/1509738305939939/>